

Riding tour 4 to Breiðavík, September 6. – 13. 2021

This 8-day riding tour with free-running herd takes us directly from our farm Geirastadir into the fascinating mountains of Iceland's eastern fjords. The route is very varied and attractive: on old postal route, over wide sandy areas and steep mountain passes to the small village Bakkagerdi in Borgarfjörður eystri, whose region is known for its magical nature with rhyolite-colored high mountain ranges. We will ride through the imposing mountains to the secluded fjord Breidavik with overnight stay in a cozy hiking hut and the possibility for an additional evening ride through the black lava sand. The next days we turn back to Geirastaðir. Maybe we are lucky and will see northern lights in the autumn nights....

Inclusive:

- 8 riding days (about 20-40 km per day) mainly with free-roaming herd, 2-3 riding horses per person, 1 departure day
- 4 nights in twin or triple bed rooms on our farm Geirastaðir
- 1 night in twin or triple bed rooms in the guesthouse Borg in Njarðvík near the sea
- 1 night in shared rooms or mattress rooms in the cosy mountain huts from Víknaslóðir
- 1 "luxus" night in the hotel Blábjörg with hot pot / spa directly by the sea

- Transfer from / to domestic airport Egilsstaðir. Luggage transport to the respective accommodations

Detailed tour description September tour:

1st day (September 6)

Arrival at Geirastaðir, ride to the seals - overnight Geirastadir

We meet at noon in the small town Egilsstaðir at the domestic airport (arrival domestic flight 15.20). Short stay in Egilsstaðir for private purchases, if desired. Then we drive "out into the country", about 40 km to our farm Geirastaðir. Cozy coffee, then getting to know the horses and ride along the river Jökulsá. Overnight on Geirastaðir.

2nd day (September 7)

Departure for the riding tour: Geirastaðir-Hóll- overnight Geirastaðir

Now it starts with the whole herd on our tour. On the old postal tour over the vast land of the Hróarstunga, first to the beautiful old wooden church at Kirkjubær. Enjoy a hearty lunch break at the sheep farm before continuing along the Lagarfljót river towards the mountains. The horses stay at the abandoned farm Hóll in the pasture, we drive back and stay overnight on Geirastaðir

3rd day (September 8)

Hóll - Unaós – overnight Geirastaðir

A scenic and varied route. First we ride along the open grass and sand plain of the Héraðsandi to the farm Unaósi at the foot of the mountains, where we take a long break and leave the herd behind. Then we ride with our favourite horse towards the sea near Stapavík, where we take a ride on the black lava sand. Then we drive home to Geirastaðir. Today we go with the herd again to Stapavík but then on a narrow path steeply uphill over the mountain pass Gönguskarð. During the descent, we lead the horses in parts. The view of the mountains of Borgarfjörður eystri in front of us is breathtakingly beautiful. We spend the night directly at the horses in the cozy guest house Borg / Njarðvík

4th day (September 9)

Unaós - Borgarfjörður eystri - accommodation Hotel Blábjörg, Borgarfj.eystri

Overnight mountain hut Breiðavík

Today we go with the herd again to Stapavík and then on a narrow path steeply uphill over the mountain pass Gönguskarð. During the descent, we lead the horses in parts. The view of the mountains of Borgarfjörður eystri in front of us is breathtakingly beautiful. When we arrived down in the fjord we make a long break at the farm Borg / Njarðvík. Then it goes on the winding country road directly along the sea to Borgarfjörður and the idyllic village Bakkagerði (see www.borgarfjordureystri.en). There is an "Elven Hill" for hiking and the cozy Álfakaffi. We treat ourselves to a "luxury night" in the Hotel Blábjörg with bed linen, hotpot / spa directly on the sea and a wonderful breakfast buffet. Then it continues on a beautiful route through the colorful, gigantic mountains around the Borgarfjord. There are about 600 meters to overcome, but this time not quite as steep as on the Gönguskarð and on wider, well-fortified gravel roads. Our destination is the bay Breiðavík, where we spend the night in a cozy hiking hut. If you want, you can ride on your favorite horse to the beach in the evening or the next morning

5th day (September 10)

Borgarfjörður eystri - Breiðavík - overnight mountain hut Breiðavík

Today we continue on a beautiful route through the colorful, gigantic mountains around the Borgarfjord. There are about 600 meters to overcome, but this time not quite as steep as on the Gönguskarð and on wider, well-fortified gravel roads. Our destination is the bay Breiðavík, where we spend the night in a cozy hiking hut. If you want, you can ride on your favorite horse to the beach in the evening or the next morning

6th day (September 11)

Breiðavík – Njarðvík - overnight guesthouse Borg / Njarðvík

We ride through the fascinating mountain landscape, past the mountain lake Gæsavatn and then downhill again towards Borgarfjörður and forwards to the next fjord. We spend the night directly with the horses in the cozy guest house Borg / Njarðvík

7th day (September 12)

Njarðvík – Unaós - Hóll – overnight Geirastaðir

After the breakfast we ride / lead over the steep, scenic mountain pass Gönguskarð with sea views over the last mountain of our tour. On the other side we make on a long rest at the farm Unaós. At Unaós the wide Herað plain opens. We ride across sand dunes and open uneven meadow areas and all need to work well together to keep the horses together as a herd. In the evening we drive and stay overnight at our farm Geirastaðir.

8th day (September 13)

Holl – Geirastaðir – overnight Geirastaðir

Last route of the riding tour along the large river Lagarfljót to the old church Kirkjubær, from where an old postal tour leads directly to our farm Geirastaðir. There, the horses are finally allowed on their native pastures and we ourselves celebrate the successful tour with roast lamb

(September 14). After breakfast, we drive the participants to the domestic airport (departure 9.00) in Egilsstaðir and wish a good home journey or onward journey in Iceland.
